About ENEOS

ENEOS is the brand name for premium synthetic oil products manufactured and sold by JX Nippon Oil & Energy Corp., the largest oil company in Japan. ENEOS obsession with quality is the reason we are the OE lubricant supplier of choice for most Asian auto makers. ENEOS products include proprietary formulations for proper lubrication, enhancing engine and transmission performance, lowering fuel consumption, reducing wear and extending life of components. About ENEOS Products (long)

ENEOS products are the highest quality lubricants available in the marketplace today. Our products use advanced additive and base oil technology, the result of joint engineering and research with Asian auto manufacturers.

Our motor oils and transmission fluids offer optimal performance protection under the most extreme temperature variations while providing superior fuel savings capabilities. They offer an upgrade from conventional oil and satisfy drivers who seek improved fuel economy. They are also formulated using advanced detergent-dispersant, antioxidant, anti-wear, friction-modifier, and defoamant additives for better wear protection. View more about ENEOS Products.
